ABSTRACT

Muh. Ridzky Andi Paso, 2022, "Designing Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook for The First Grader of SMPN 1 Palopo". Thesis of English Education Study Program. Consultant (1) Sahraini and (2) Andi Tenrisanna Syam.

The aim of this research is to design a thematic vocabulary pocketbook. This research design uses a research and development approach. It was conducted at the SMPN 1 Palopo (VII G), consisting of 24 students. The instruments used in this research were questionnaires and interviews. The researcher collected the data through a questionnaire and interview. The finding of this research showed students' positive perception of the thematic vocabulary pocketbook. It can be seen in the students' perception result with a mean score of 3,38 with 84,5% of the percentage, which is qualified as "Good." Also, the interview result shows that the students find the Pocketbook very interesting, easy to carry, and can improve students' skills. It can be suggested that a thematic vocabulary pocketbook can be applied in the learning process because it is helpful for students.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Background

Vocabulary is one of the most important things to learn in English. Significantly as a foreign speaker, vocabulary will help us to string the words we want to say so that we can have a good conversation with other people. In every English aspect, like speaking, writing, or listening, vocabulary plays an important role, but in non-speaking English countries like Indonesia, we are challenged to improve our vocabulary skills. The problem here is that a lot of people in Indonesia want to master English, but they have problems with their English vocabulary¹. Learning the vocabulary means that we learn the foundation of English.

Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook is a book that contains vocabulary with various themes inside. The theme will ease the students to understand the topic. Thematic learning is a form that will create integrated learning that will push the student's involvement in the learning process.². Besides that, a thematic vocabulary pocketbook will also encourage the students to study more diligently and give more interest in students.

¹ Richard Devara Candra Kumara, "The Use of Anagrams To Improve the Students' Vocabulary Learning Strategy in Xi Ipa 1 Class,Sma Pangudi Luhur Sedayu A," Sanata Dharma University Yogyakarta 136 (2016): 1–136.

² M.Mukhlis, "Pembelajaran Tematik PEMBELAJARAN TEMATIK Mohamad Muklis STAIN Samarinda," Fenomena IV, no. 14 (2012): 66.

In the writer's last observation in SMPN 1 Palopo, he found that first-grade students in SMPN 1 Palopo struggle to memorize the vocabulary, and the teacher doesn't have any media basic on vocabulary to improve their vocabulary skills. Fatmawati Sumang B., S.Pd, the English teacher of SMPN 1 Palopo, also said that her students would be so interested if they had media to be used.

Thematic Vocabulary is a good to help the students to understand the material effectively because thematic vocabulary gives specific themes that the students will learn in class. The using of pocket book will also help the students to learn the vocabulary more efficiently because of the small size that will make it easier to carry everywhere, plus an interesting design will improve their motivation.

There are several researches that are similar to the researcher's product. The first one is from Khanna Soliha (2020), in her thesis shows that the Islamic vocabulary pocketbook that she made the students in Madrasah Tsanawiyah 32 Lamasi consider the product as "Good" where they strongly agree in 4.46 points and 4.12 points for agreeing and that means the average is 4.18 which categorized as "Good"³. The similarity between Soliha's research and this research is the product, Soliha also designed a vocabulary pocket book but the differences is the topic of the vocabulary pocket book. The topic in Soliha's research is Islamic Vocabulary while this research focused on Thematic Vocabulary.

³ Khanna Soliha, "Developing Pocket Book of Islamic Vocabulary for The First-Grade of Madrasah Tsanawiyah 32 Lamasi," IAIN Palopo (State Islamic Institute of Palopo, 2020), <http://www.akrabjuara.com/index.php/akrabjuara/article/view/919>.

The second one is from Enhana Tarbiatunnisa (2021), which showed a mean score of 3,72 on students' perception, which qualified as "Excellent ."The teacher and students in Datok Sulaiman English club also stated that the product is in line with students' needs⁴. The similarity between Tarbiatunnisa's research and this research is the target of product. Tarbiatunnisa also made a product for basic students' skill. The differences between two of these researches is that this research design a new pocket book, while Tarbiatunnisa's research is developing a module that already made.

Next is the daily expression pocketbook by Nur Aisyah (2021). The product has a 4.4 percent on student's perception and qualified as "Very Good." This indicated that the product could be used without any revision. Teachers and students of Muhammadiyah Boarding School Putra Palopo also agree that this Pocketbook is presented in line with the student's needs.⁵. The similarity between Aisyah's research and this research is the product, but Aisyah's pocket book is focused on daily expression.

Next is the accounting pocketbook product by Fenny Ane Yanete (2016) was categorized as "Very Suitable" by the expert with a 4.65 score; the accounting pocketbook increased the student's learning motivation by 9.24% from 76.95% to 86.19%⁶. The similarity between Yanete's research and this research is the product, Yanete also designed a vocabulary pocket book but the differences is the topic of the vocabulary pocket book. The topic in Yanete's research is accounting Vocabulary while this research focused on Thematic Vocabulary.

Liena Sofiana and Suci Musvita Ayu (2017) showed that Pocketbook is proven to be effective in improving the knowledge and attitude toward Soil-Transmitted infection in students in SD Negeri Moyudan Sleman Yogyakarta. Still, it is not effective in improving the behavior of preventing Soil-Transmitted Helminth.⁷ The similarity between Sofiana's research and this research is the product, both of our research product is pocket book, but the difference is the topic in our product and the target of the product. The topic in Sofiana's research is Soil-Transmitted infection for the elementary students, while this research focused on Thematic Vocabulary for first grade students of junior high school.

Based on that problem, the writer is interested in designing a vocabulary pocketbook as a learning media to help the students improve their vocabulary mastery, and motivation. Pocket book media will also help teachers deliver their material to the students effectively, the media will contain English vocabulary based on their thematic book, so it will help them to understand the materials well.

B. Identification of the Problem

Based on the background of the problem, several problems can be identified as follows:

1. Lack of vocabulary skill in SMPN 1 Palopo

The students in the first grade of SMP Negeri 1 Palopo have problems with their vocabulary skills, and many of them feel strange in English.

2. Lack of students' motivation in learning English

Students' reason in SMP Negeri 1 Palopo is quite relatively, as we know English is not their primary language. In this country, English is considered a foreign language rather than a second language.

3. Lack of learning media in SMPN 1 Palopo

Lack of learning media is also a problem in the first grade of SMP Negeri 1 Palopo and indirectly decreases students' motivation.

C. Delimitation of the problem

Based on the identification of the issues above, the writer solved the problem and focused on designing a thematic vocabulary pocketbook to use as a learning media at SMPN 1 Palopo.

D. Research Question

Based on the background, the writer formulates the problem statement as follows:

“What is the appropriate product for the first graders of SMP Negeri 1 Palopo?”

E. The Objective of the Research

Based on the formulation of the problem, it can be stated that this research aims to develop a valid thematic vocabulary pocketbook for the first graders of SMP Negeri 1 Palopo.

F. Benefit of Research

The research development of a thematic vocabulary pocketbook is expected to provide the following benefits:

1. For Students

- a. As a medium to improve student's motivation
- b. To help students improve their vocabulary mastery

2. For the Teacher

As a supporting medium that teachers in English class can use.

3. For Writer

The benefit of research designing a thematic vocabulary pocketbook for the writer is to add insight, knowledge, and skills in making a learning media.

G. Product Specification Developed

1. Thematic vocabulary pocketbook media is in the form of the printed book
2. Thematic vocabulary pocketbook contains English vocabulary according to the themes in the learning book that the students used in school, including some other themes that might be useful for them.
3. The students use a designed vocabulary pocketbook by reading the vocabulary and memorizing it.

4. Thematic vocabulary pocketbook is intended for the first-grade students of SMPN 1 Palopo

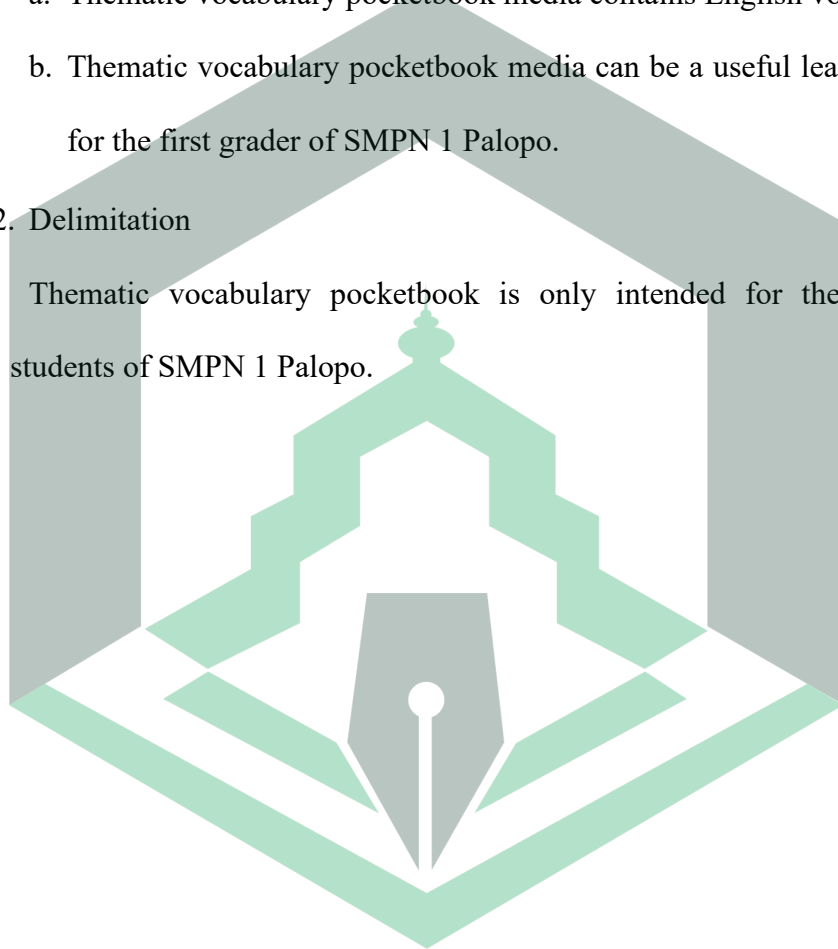

H. Assumptions and Delimitation of the Research

1. Assumption

- a. Thematic vocabulary pocketbook media contains English vocabulary.
- b. Thematic vocabulary pocketbook media can be a useful learning media for the first grader of SMPN 1 Palopo.

2. Delimitation

Thematic vocabulary pocketbook is only intended for the first-grade students of SMPN 1 Palopo.

CHAPTER II

REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

A. Previous Related Research

In writing this thesis, the writer found some research related to this research as follows:

Soliha (2020) found that the first-grade students at Madrasah Tsanawiyah 32 Lamasi have a lack of interest in learning English and also a lack of vocabulary. The writer develops a pocketbook of Islamic vocabulary for the first-grade students at Madrasah Tsanawiyah 32 Lamasi. There are 60 students from grades one a and b, but the writer only took 30 students from class 1 a. This thesis uses the Research and Development type of research and the Addie model for its research method. From the student's perception and expert judgment, this Pocketbook categorized as "Good" makes it valid and can be used as an English Learning tool.⁸ The similarity between Soliha's research and this research is the product, Soliha also designed a vocabulary pocket book but the differences is the topic of the vocabulary pocket book. The topic in Soliha's research is Islamic Vocabulary while this research focused on Thematic Vocabulary.

⁸ Soliha, "Developing Pocket Book of Islamic Vocabulary for The First-Grade of Madrasah Tsanawiyah 32 Lamasi."

Masuqi et al. (2021), in their journal found that English vocabulary skill at Mts Nahdlatul Ummah Ketapang Lor is poor, so they made a pocketbook to improve English Vocabulary quality in that school. The subject in this research consists of 18 people, which is the students and formal educator at Mts Nahdlatul Ummah Ketapang Lor. The result after training shows that with the pocketbook media, the English teaching quality held by the teacher is improving the student's skills, and the students are more interested in studying English.⁹ The similarity between Masuqi's research and this research is the product of the research. Both of the research focused on developing a vocabulary pocketbook.

In their journal, Lestari & Wangin (2019) stated that Vocabulary skill in sport is so important, that's why they made a Soccer Term Glossary to improve sports vocabulary skill, especially for sports practitioners. This research was done by identifying foreign terms in soccer through literature study references on the internet. The result of this research found 462 words which are shown in the table with three columns consisting of terms and descriptions in English and Indonesia.¹⁰ The similarity between Wangin's research and this research is the aim of the research to improve vocabulary skill, the difference is the content of product in Wangin's research is focused on Soccer Theme, while this research focused on Thematic Vocabulary.

⁹ Ibrahim Masuqi et al., "Meningkatkan Kualitas Kosakata Bahasa Inggris Di Madrasah Tsanawiyah Nahdlatul Ummah Ketapang Lor Dengan Menggunakan Media Pocket Book" 3 (2021): 826–36, <http://journal.umg.ac.id/index.php/dedikasimu/article/view/2669>.

According to the research above, most of them agree that Pocketbook is an appropriate media to fulfill students' needs in learning English.

B. Literature Reviews

1. Thematic Vocabulary

A thematic vocabulary is a group of speech that belongs to a specific schema.¹¹ Thematic vocabulary is supposed to enrich students' English vocabulary skill with focusing students on certain themes so the students knows what they about to learn. The vocabulary could be helpful for students speaking, writing, and reading skills in an easier way. Tinkham (1997) states that thematic vocabulary can lead to better retention of lexical items in the teaching of L2¹². Examples of thematic vocabulary such as car, train, plane, ship, and bike belong to the transportation theme.

2. Pocket Book

A pocketbook is a small book that can be stored in a pocket and is easy to carry anywhere. Karmin and Wahyuningsih (2013) stated that pocketbooks could be deciphered as small books that are lightweight and easy to carry anywhere, plus they can be read at any time.¹³

The Pocketbook is a media that can be used for teaching and learning practice. The Pocketbook is easy to learn whenever and anywhere because of its small and practical shape. The material is also brief and precise. The use of a pocketbook is also so simple that the teacher doesn't have to use other media, such as electrical components.

The Pocketbook also has some weaknesses. The disadvantage of the Pocketbook is that the publishing process sometimes takes a long time because it has to go through the printing process, and the material of printed media is also easily damaged if the paper's quality isn't good.¹⁴. Despite that, we can decrease the possible damage to the Pocketbook by taking good care of them. For example, we can put our books in a dry place and clean them from the dust periodically.

3. Designing Pocket Book

Design is an act of creating, executing, or constructing something according to a plan. There are many kinds of design; one of them is product design. Product design aims to generate and prioritize functionality that could potentially deliver value to users.¹⁵.

In designing a pocketbook, we have to follow the instruction to make a good product. Here are some essential things to recognize before making a pocketbook:

The first is pocketbook design. Before we make a pocketbook, we have to make a design for it. It includes the framework and concept of the Pocketbook. A good design will lead us to a good product.

¹⁴ Ratih Hardianti, "Developing Vocabulary Pocketbook for The Seventh Grade of Satap Students at Smpn 02 Baebunta English Language Education STUDY PROGRAM TARBIYAH AND TEACHER TRAINING FACULTY STATE ISLAMIC INSTITUTE OF PALOPO DEVELOPING VOCABULARY POCKETBOOK FOR THE SEVENTH" (2020), <http://repository.iainpalopo.ac.id/id/eprint/3377/>.

¹⁵ Mark Hendrickson, "Three Types of Design | by Mark Hendrickson | Medium," accessed March 15, 2022, <https://medium.com/@markymark/three-types-of-design-3623c3243aa6>.

Then pocketbook size, we have to calculate the size of the Pocketbook before we create the Pocketbook. The Pocketbook must be small but still can be read and understood.

The third is the presentation of the Pocketbook, presentation of the Pocketbook is essential to hook the students' motivation to read the Pocketbook; a good presentation will also make the audience trust our product.

Next, the material of the Pocketbook, the material of Pocketbook has to contain thematic vocabulary. In general, the pocketbook format (Ministry of national Education:2012) explained the following introduction, containing the Title (title, author, institution, and others), table of contents, and preface. Then, the content contains an illustration of the material, and the closing contains a bibliography.¹⁶

According to Fahtria Yuliani and Lina Herlina (2015) research, the development of pocketbooks is made with 13 cm x 10 cm size to make them more efficient, practice and easier to use¹⁷.

The Pocketbook also has to be interesting and attract the reader Especially the pocketbook design. The design of cover in pocket book is very important, because the cover of a book can tell us about what we are going to read, the book cover also can make the buyer decide to bought it or not¹⁸. The language used in English and Indonesian has to be easy to understand, and the structure has to be in order.

If we can attract the reader, the book will increase the reader's motivation to learn the content inside.

4. Need Analysis

Need analysis is a step to collect the information from the subject that we want to observe. According to Soriano (1995), cited in Edi Wahyono and Dewi Puspita Sari's journal stated that needs analysis gathers and analyzes data to decide what the subject "wants" and "needs" in their learning progress. Meanwhile, Richard (2001) stated that the aim of need analysis is to fulfill the "gap" of the language program "lacks."¹⁹.

a) Target Needs

According to the theories from Soriano and Richard, we can conclude that to do the need analysis, we need to focus on these three terms, there are 1) Want, this term focus on what the student really wants in learning English 2) Need, this term is focus in what is the student really have to do in order to achieve the learning goals and 3) Lacks, this term is focus in the gap in students' knowledge in learning English.

b) Learning Method

Learning method is an activity or methodology that can help the students to achieve the learning goals. In gathering the need analysis of students, we also have to know what is the best learning methodology for the students.

¹⁹ Edi Wahyono and Dewi Puspitasari, "Students ' Need Analysis of English Reading Skills for Academic Purposes," Prosiding Ictte 1, no. 1 (2016): 1007–14.

Learning method itself is an activity or methodology that can help the students to achieve the learning goals.

5. Kinds of Research and Development

When we discuss kinds of research and development, there are several instructional design models that are often applied in research. They are the ADDIE model, Borg and Gall, and 4-D models.

a. ADDIE

ADDIE model was created by the Center for Educational Technology of Florida State University back in 1975. Then this model was developed by Dick and Carey in 1978 and then revised by Russel Watson 3 years later in 1981. There are five steps in this model, namely Analysis, Design, Development, Implementation, and Evaluation

b. Borg and Gall

The second model is Borg and Gall. This instructional model was created by Meredith D. Gall, Joyce P. Gall, and Walter R. Borg in 1983. There are ten steps in this model. The first is research and Information Collecting. This step includes a literature study that is related to the problem. Then planning, in this step, the skill has to be formulated and expertise related to the problem, determine the objectives that will be achieved at each step. Next is developing a preliminary form of the product. In this step, we need to prepare a supporting component, prepare a guidebook and evaluate the appropriateness of the supporting tools.

Then the third is preliminary field testing. The test involves 6-13 subjects and collecting and analyzing data can be done with an interview, observation, or questionnaire. Next is the primary product revision. The revision is possible to do more than one time, according to the result shown in the limited test, so it can get the primary product draft ready to get the more comprehensive test.

After that is main product testing. In this step, the main product is ready to be tested in a broader sample. Then operational product revision, after we get the leading product testing result, we can develop the product until it is ready to validate.

The seventh step is operational field testing. After the revision, we can test the validation of the product. After that is the final product revision, the last revision after operational field testing to get the product steady to be implemented. And last is dissemination and implementation. After the final revision, we can finally disseminate and implement the product.

c. 4-D Model

The last is the 4-D Model. This model is a quite simple design that only consists of 4 stages, namely defining, designing, developing, and dissemination.

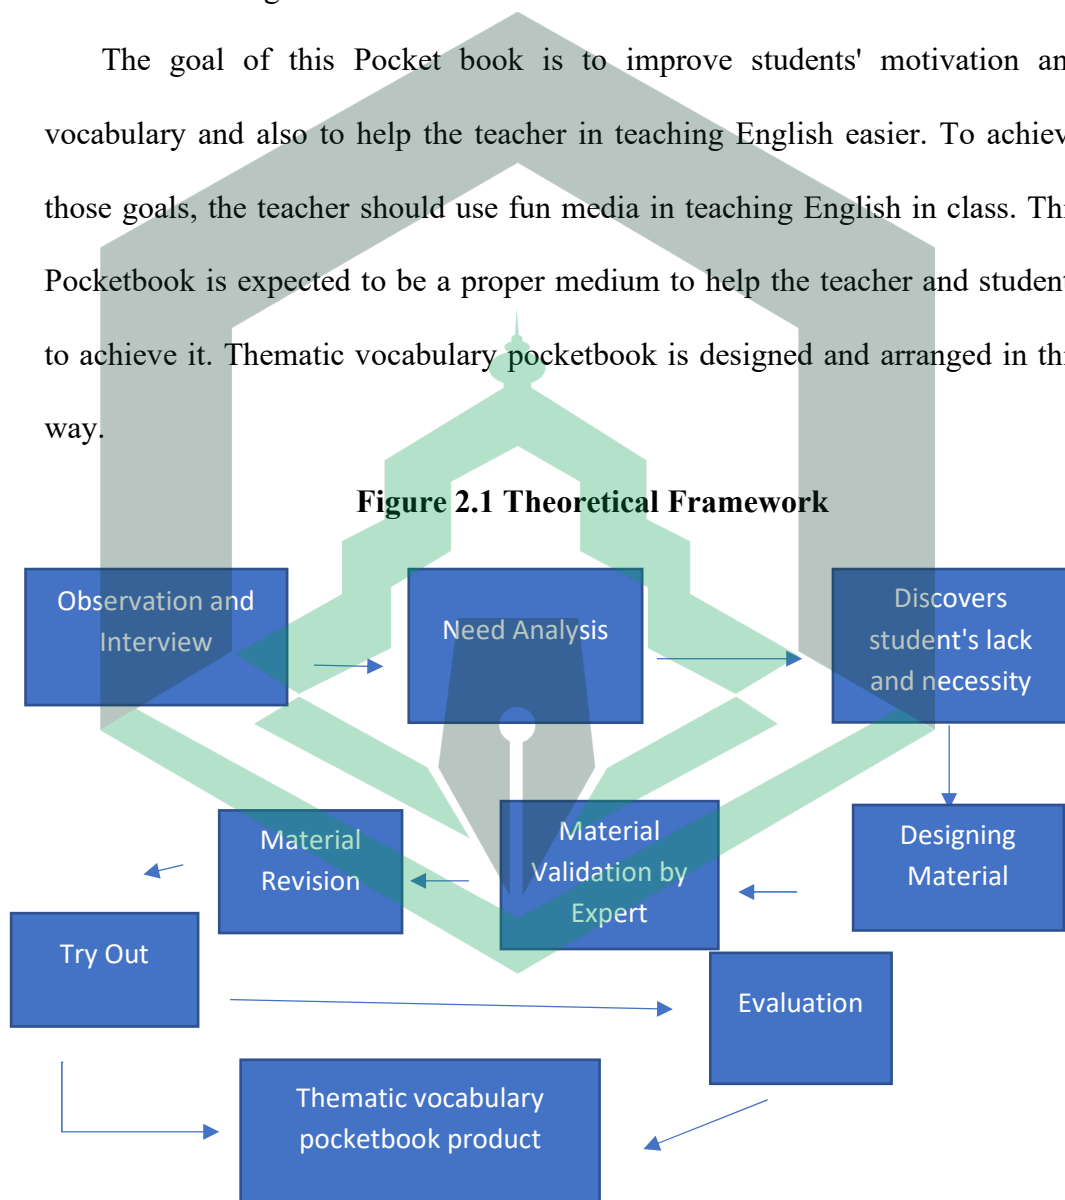

From several instructional design models above, the writer chose the ADDIE model to apply in this research. The reason the writer chose this model is that the ADDIE model is more straightforward than the other model.

It seems similar to Borg and Gall but more slightly, and it's pretty dynamic and practical to do.

C. Theoretical Framework

In designing a thematic vocabulary pocketbook, the writer uses the ADDIE instructional design models.

The goal of this Pocket book is to improve students' motivation and vocabulary and also to help the teacher in teaching English easier. To achieve those goals, the teacher should use fun media in teaching English in class. This Pocketbook is expected to be a proper medium to help the teacher and students to achieve it. Thematic vocabulary pocketbook is designed and arranged in this way.

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHOD

A. Research Design

This research is categorized into Research and Development (R & D) method. The research and development method are a method applied to develop and produce suitable learning media to measure effectiveness. In composing the study, the writer started by observing the students at SMP Negeri 1 Palopo through the questionnaire survey, designing, developing, implementing, and evaluating the product. The product consisted of thematic vocabulary according to their printed book and also an example of how to use the vocabulary. Moreover, in this research, the writer increased the essential Thematic Vocabulary Pocket Book for SMP Negeri 1 Palopo by applying ADDIE Model (Analysis, Design, Development, Implementation, and Evaluation).

B. Participants

The subject of this research is the first-grade students of SMPN 1 Palopo, specifically in the 7G class. There are 32 students in the academic year 2022/2023. The participants in this research have filled out the need analysis questionnaire and student perception questionnaire, and the product have been validated by a teacher.

C. Location and Time of The Research

This research was conducted at SMP Negeri 1 Palopo, located at Jl. A. Pangerang No. 2 Palopo. The research was held from June 2022 until August 2022.

D. Research Procedure

The development model applied to design a thematic vocabulary pocketbook for the first-grade students at SMP Negeri 1 Palopo is the ADDIE design model, which includes five phases: Analysis, Design, Development, Implementation, and Evaluation.

1. Analysis

The writer needed to recognize the students' needs, lack, and necessities. In this phase, the writer analyzed the appropriate product. Moreover, when executed this phase, the writer used a questionnaire that has been given to the English teacher to know what exactly the students' need is.

2. Design

In this phase, the writer conducted the output based on the need analysis. Through this stage, the writer will use a thematic vocabulary pocketbook as the learning media of the product. To use this product, the writer outlines the instructional steps and the aim. The course was made based on the result of the analysis and curriculum stage. The content of the material consists of vocabulary and examples of how to use it.

3. Development

In this phase, the writer focused on learning material development. The writer also built the learning material according to the data analysis. The process of developing this Pocketbook started with gathering the material, compiled the material, set up the material and validated the material by an expert.

4. Implementation

In this phase, the thematic vocabulary pocketbook as learning media has been validated and have been implemented for the students. The purpose of this step is to understand the appropriateness of the Pocketbook as a supporting media for the first grade in SMP Negeri 1 Palopo.

5. Evaluation

In this phase, the product have been evaluated, which has been validated by the questionnaire.

E. Technique for Data Collection

The instruments that were applied to accumulate the data are as follows:

1. Questionnaire

The questionnaire aims to find out the students' needs (5 items) and students' and teachers' perceptions with five questions. It was also used for the experts' judgment to evaluate the product. There are three items on the questionnaire for language and material experts' judgments and 17 items for the media expert's judgment.

2. Interview

The researcher interviewed the students' and the teacher's perceptions after implementing the Pocketbook. It collected information related to improving the Pocketbook.

F. Data Analysis Technique

In the data analysis technique, the writer uses two kinds of data techniques as follows:

1. Analyze the Result of the Questionnaire

Examine the questionnaire's result. The questionnaire data analysis applied in this study is quantitative descriptive method that can be formulated as follows:

$$X = \frac{\sum X}{N} \times 100\%$$

X = Value

$\sum X$ = Total Answer

N = Total Students

2. Data Analysis of Expert Judgement and Students' Perception

The data was examined with the Likert Scale as the metric. In the Likert scale, the students were not just asked to choose positive questions but also negative questions.²⁰ Suharto proposed that the conversions score be constructed by dividing the range of the score by the objection class intervals.

²⁰ Zainal Arifin, Menganalisis Kualitas Tes, Evaluasi Pembelajaran, 2012.

The four-point scale goes like this (1) Strongly disagrees, (2) Disagrees, (3) Agrees, and (4) Firmly Agrees. Here is how to use the formula;

The answer excellent = $E \times 4 = \dots$

The answers good = $G \times 3 = \dots$

The answer fairly = $F \times 2 = \dots$

The answer poor = $P \times 1 = \dots$

Total score = \dots

After calculating the total score, the writer would calculate the average by using the following formulation:

$$M = \frac{B}{N}$$

M : mean score

B : total score

N : total number of material topics

The result of the average score would be continued by calculating the value using the following formula:

$$X = \frac{M}{N} \times 100\%$$

X : the value

M : average score

N : total number of value

After each material's average score is calculated, the writer will define them as an appropriate product to use.

Table 3.1 Material Topics Qualification of Product Evaluation

Score	Percentage	Qualification	Categories
3,6 - 4	90 – 100%	Excellent	It can be utilized without revision
2,6 – 3,5	65- 89%	Good	It can be utilized with a little bit of revision
1,6 – 2,5	40 – 64%	Fairly	It can be utilized for many revisions
0 – 1,5	0 – 39%	Poor	Cannot be utilized

CHAPTER IV

The percentages of the teacher's perception result are calculated below:

$$X = \frac{M}{N} \times 100\%$$

$$X = \frac{3,8}{4} \times 100\% = 95\%$$

The result of the teacher's perception got a mean score of 3,8 with 95% of percentages which qualified as "Excellent." It indicates that the Pocketbook can be utilized without any revision.

Furthermore, the researcher interviewed the teacher of SMP Negeri 1 Palopo to collect more information to improve pocketbook quality. Based on the interview's result, there are several suggestions and comments given by the teacher, as shown below:

"The Pocketbook is very helpful to increase students' skill, the design is interesting and easy to carry so the students can study anywhere. The Pocketbook also can help teacher in class, because the students must bring dictionary in class so the Pocketbook can be used by students. The material is corresponded to the curriculum, but the size of Pocketbook will be more efficient if it's smaller."

4. Evaluation

Based on student and teacher perceptions, interviews, and expert comments above, the Pocketbook has been appropriate for the needs of first-grade students of SMP Negeri 1 Palopo. Furthermore, the final design of the thematic vocabulary pocketbook consisted of 8 chapters. The name of each chapter is presented below:

Part 1: Animal

B. Discussion

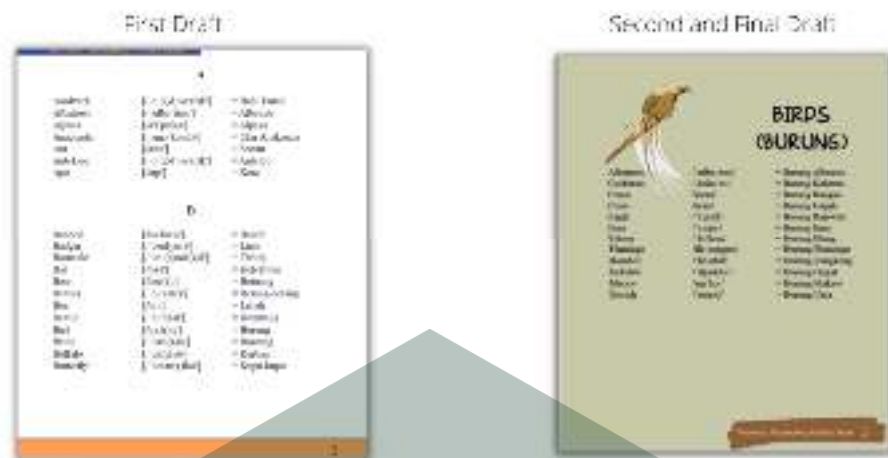

The first grader students at SMP Negeri 1 Palopo have several problems in learning English, such as lack of vocabulary, lack of learning media, and lack of student motivation. This research aimed to design an appropriate Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook for The First Grade Students at SMPN 1 Palopo. With Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook, students' motivation and vocabulary skills will improve, and it is also will help the teacher in teaching English in class.

Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook is a pocketbook that contains various themes inside. The Pocketbook is designed to help the students to learn English vocabulary in an interesting way. The pocketbook design has several aspects. There are cover pages, chapters cover, and contents. Here are some of the designs from the first draft until the final draft:

As a supporting media, Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook is very helpful for students in learning English, especially in increasing their vocabulary. According to the teacher's interview, she explained that students are supposed to bring a dictionary to class, but the size of the dictionary is too big, and the design is unattractive. This problem can decrease students' motivation to learn English. The Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook can increase students' motivation with its small size and interesting content that correspond with students' needs.

The Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook was designed by using ADDIE Models. It consists of five steps, analysis, design, development, implementation, and evaluation. This model was developed by Dick and Carey back in 1978 and revised by Russel Watson in 1981. The ADDIE Model is also utilized by Enhana Tarbiatunnisa (2021) in her research titled "Developing Basic English Speaking Module for The English Program at Senior Highschool of Modern Islamic Boarding School Datok Sulaiman Putri Palopo" Moreover, there are several differences between this research and Enhanna Tarbiatunnisa's research: The first one is, Enhana's research is developing a module, while this research is designing a new pocketbook. The second one is that Enhana's research product is a module, and the subject is high school students, while this research product is a pocketbook for first-grade of junior high school students.

The first step of this research is analysis. The researcher took an analysis by giving the students a need analysis questionnaire. After collecting the data, the researcher then moves to the next step, design. The researcher started designing the Pocketbook according to the need analysis results. After that, the researcher asked for suggestions from the validator and started developing the product. Furthermore, the researcher implemented the product for the students and then asked for their opinion and suggestion. Finally, after collecting the data researcher evaluates the product. In the process of this research, the researcher found some difficulties, such as the time given by the teacher being concise. To receive the data faster, the researcher has to give the students questionnaire via a google form. The second problem is that not every one of them has access to the internet or does not have devices to use the internet, so the researcher helps the students by lending them devices at school.

Moreover, there are several main components of the Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook that was designed based on the need analysis, students' perception, and interview. There are:

1. Learning Aim

Based on chart 4.1, the students' aim in learning English is mostly to speak English fluently. Therefore, the researcher added phonetic transcription and sound to the Pocketbook. This method corresponds to Bambang and Ahsan's (2020) journal. They stated that phonetic transcription was helpful in improving the students' English pronunciation.²¹.

2. Learning Material

The learning material contains in Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook is refers to chart 4.2. The result stated that most of the students have lower basic skills. Based on the result, the researcher compiles the themes based on their printed book. The themes in the vocabulary pocketbook have been attached in charts 4.5 until 4.10. There are:

1.) Animal

This chapter contains animal vocabulary, such as birds, livestock and poultry, aquatic, insects, predators, reptiles and amphibians, primates and mammals, and endemic animals.

2.) Occupation

This chapter contains occupations in several sectors such as education, government, airport, health, law, creative, culinary, and service.

3.) Public Place

²¹ Bambang Irawan and Muhammad Ahsan Tampubolon, "Using Phonetic Transcription To Improve Students' Pronunciation Skills," Edulingua: Jurnal Linguistiks Terapan Dan Pendidikan Bahasa Inggris 7, no. 2 (2020): 1–12, <https://doi.org/10.34001/edulingua.v7i2.1325>.

This chapter contains public places vocabulary in several categories, such as entertainment and sports facilities, transportation and needs facilities, and education and religious facilities.

4.) Classroom

In this chapter, the researcher served two categories they are things in the classroom and subjects in the classroom.

5.) Sport

This chapter contains the sport's vocabulary. There is one category in this chapter, types of sport.

6.) Fruit and Vegetables

This chapter contains fruit and vegetable vocabulary. This theme was added based on the student's request for an interview.

7.) Greetings and Farewell

This chapter contains greetings and farewell vocabulary.

8.) Bonus Part

This part contains some themes outside the syllabus but is very useful for students. There are phrases, idioms, expressions, and irregular and regular verbs.

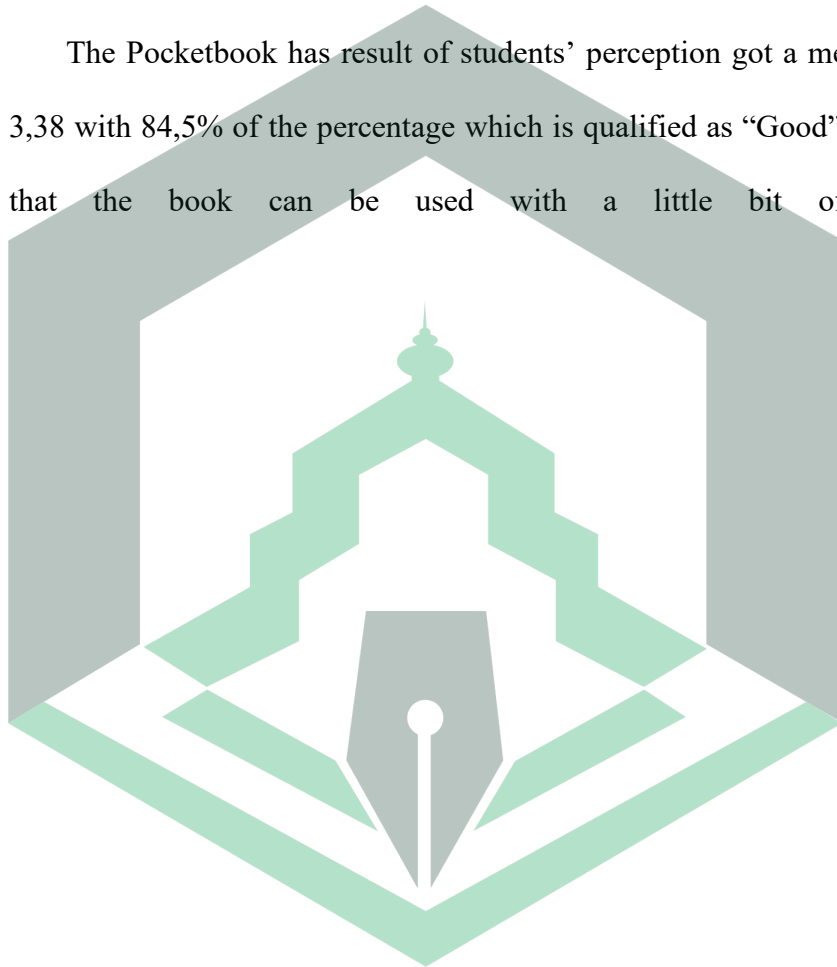

3. Learning Methodology

Based on chart 4.3, the result of students' need analysis is 41,7% on reading with a picture from the vocabulary. Based on the result, the researcher put an illustration on every chapter in Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook.

4. Learning Media

The first-grade students of SMP Negeri 1 Palopo refers to chart 4.4 are more like to learn with textual media. Based on that, the researcher focusing the thematic vocabulary pocketbook text rather than the picture and audio.

The Pocketbook has result of students' perception got a mean score of 3,38 with 84,5% of the percentage which is qualified as "Good" it indicates that the book can be used with a little bit of revision.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

A. Conclusions

Based on the result of students' need analysis through questionnaires and interviews, the Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook was appropriate for the first grader at SMP Negeri 1 Palopo. The students' perception results showed 84,5% of the percentages qualified as "Good." Meanwhile, the teacher's perception reaches 95% of percentages which qualified as "Excellent."

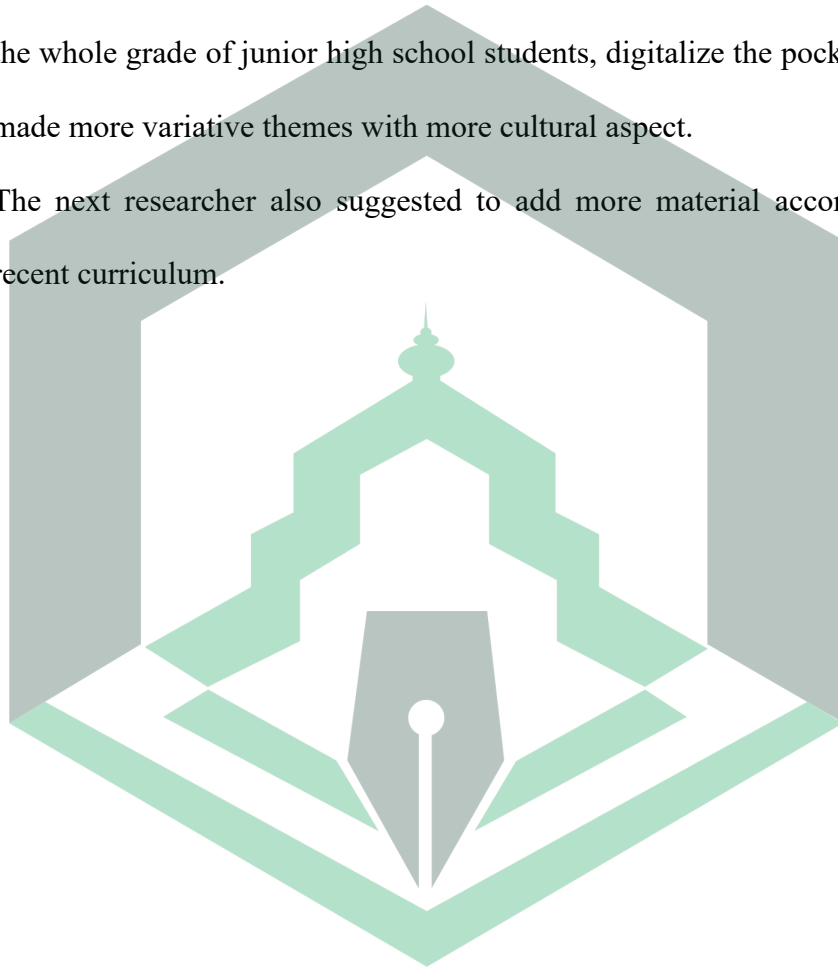

After evaluation, the Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook has eight chapters for its final design. There are Animal, Occupation, Public Place, Classroom, Sport, Fruit and Vegetables, Greetings and Farewell, and Bonus Part. The first-grade students of SMP Negeri 1 Palopo are so excited about the Pocketbook and ask for more material outside their primary material in the syllabus.

This research is expected to inspire other researchers to make a more proper learning media for students. Learning media is essential for the student's skill and motivation. Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook is also expected to be a helpful learning media that can improve students' vocabulary and help them maintain their motivation in learning English.

B. Suggestions

In this section, the researcher would like to give some suggestions based on the conclusion above. These suggestions are for English Teachers, Thematic Vocabulary Pocketbook readers, and the next researcher.

- 1.) The researcher suggested this Pocketbook be used in class to help students learn English.
- 2.) The researcher suggested students use the Pocketbook both in school and outside the school.
- 3.) The researcher suggests the next researcher improve the pocketbook target to the whole grade of junior high school students, digitalize the pocketbook, and made more variative themes with more cultural aspect.
- 4.) The next researcher also suggested to add more material according to the recent curriculum.
