Thesis of the Sharia Economics Study Program, Faculty of Islamic Economics and Business, Palopo State Islamic Institute, guided by Rismayanti, S.E., M. Si.

This thesis discusses the Implementation of Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) Policies in Poverty Reduction for the People of Binturu Village. This study aims to: to find out firsthand the form of implementation of sustainable development goals (SDGs) programs in poverty reduction in the Binturu Village area; to find out the program of implementing Village SDGs in supporting Economic, Environmental, and Social aspects. The informants in this study were 6 Binturu Village Governments, 1 Village Facilitator, 6 Hamlet Heads and 5 Binturu Village Communities.

This research approach used is qualitative, which starts with data and boils down to conclusions. The purpose of this study used is a description, presenting a picture of a phenomenon contained in the field systematically and factually. The basis of research is a case study that is useful for collecting and analyzing a certain process related to the focus of research, so as to find a limited scope of certain phenomena.

The results of the study show that, 1) The form of implementation of the village SDGs program consists of 12 forms of assistance programs for the poor in Binturu Village in the form of BLT-DD, PKH, Seedling Assistance, Paddy Field Printing, Additional Food Aid (sembako), Clean Water Piping, Drainage, Health Assistance for the Elderly, Toilet Assistance, Rabate Assistance in Dusun, Construction of Asphalt Roads, and RTLH (Uninhabitable Houses) Assistance. The purpose of the SDGs programs is as a stimulus for the Binturu Village Community who are in the category of Poor People. 2) 12 forms of Village SDGs implementation programs that support the Economic Aspect, Environmental and Social. The people of Binturu Village do not fully understand the Village SDGs program, due to the lack of socialization towards the community regarding the Village SDGs program about the goals and benefits of the Village SDGs for the community. The community better understands and knows concrete programs in the form of assistance in the form of money and basic necessities.
